

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

2015 CABERNET SAUVIGNON – Dry Creek Valley

WINE ENTHUSIAST
June 2018

90 Points - Editor's Choice This wine is predominantly Cabernet Sauvignon, blended with small amounts of Merlot, Petit Verdot, Cabernet Franc and Malbec. Smoky, toasted oak underlies rounded layers of blueberry, black cherry and plum, leaving the palate rich and pleasing.

WINEREVIEWONLINE.COM
February 2018

93 Points - A brilliant Cabernet Sauvignon from one of the Dry Creek Valley's finest producers, the 2015 exhibits rich black-fruit aromas, impressive depth and weight on the palate, with notes of wood spice and a touch of graphite that is common in top-notch California Cabernet and classified-growth Bordeaux. Will continue to evolve and improve over the next five to seven years.

CALIFORNIA GRAPEVINE
January 2018

Highly Recommended - Medium ruby color; inviting, deep, herbal, black cherry and blackberry fruit aroma with a light note of toasty oak; medium-full to full body; smooth, silky, red and black fruit flavors with good acid balance and some elegance in the mouthfeel; medium-full tannin; lingering aftertaste. Very enjoyable and easy to drink now and over the near term.

2014 CABERNET SAUVIGNON – Dry Creek Valley

WINE ENTHUSIAST
August 2017

92 Points - This well-made wine, blended with small percentages of Petit Verdot, Cabernet Franc, Malbec and Merlot, is an astounding value. Currant and cranberry notes and an underbelly of tannins play together in a smooth texture of rich concentration.

WINEREVIEWONLINE.COM
June 2017

93 Points - Perhaps one of the finest values in Cabernet Sauvignon from this vintage, the Dry Creek Cabernet is a bold, distinctive red that would hold its own in a lineup of much pricier wines. This vintage offers layered black fruits, a warm wood note, firm tannins and a deliciously long, spicy finish. Drink it now or tuck it away for a few years. Either way, it's a superb California Cabernet at a very modest price.

LAST UPDATE: APRIL 2018